

Testing Neurofilament Light (NF-L) chain in blood samples to monitor neurodegenerative diseases and support clinical drug development.